Power Of White

Designed by GA design, this swanky apartment in Madh Island, Mumbai, spells class and elegance thanks to its designer fittings, subtle material palette and rich furnishings.

Overlooking the sea, amidst the lush greenery of Madh Island, Mumbai, is this 3 BHK home designed by Mumbai-based GA design. This minimalist and airy 1,400 sq. ft. apartment affords a panoramic view of the surrounding and gives you the luxury of staying away from the chaos of the metropolis.

Designed using Carbolo black veneer and high-gloss steel, the rich look of the entrance door is suggestive of what lies ahead. The sleek and stylish living room has comfortable seating—white sofa, grey lounge and a designer mauve chair. The suede material used on the upholstery of these furniture pieces lends a stylish look. The centre table and coffee table tops are finished in black glass, while the backdrop of the TV unit is done up in rich Carbolo black veneer. The balcony here has wood-finished deck tiles, adding warmth and comfort to the space.

A black and white colour scheme is a common feature in all the rooms, which helps in maintaining a uniform look. Dominated by white walls and upholstery along with white and grey sheer curtains, lend the space an expansive look. Luxurious satuario tiles used throughout the apartment lends a harmonious feel to the space.

Speaking about the design concept, Shami Goregaoker, Project Manager-Interior Design, says, "It was a challenge to create a luxurious and exotic feel, while maintaining the overall white palette. We had to ensure that the home does not look monotonous."

The dining area has white leather dining chairs with sleek steel legs that complement a table with a steel base and black glass top. A contemporary, stylish light pendant comprising white and black circular patterns above the dining table lends a dramatic touch. Further accentuating this space is a strategically placed mirror on the adjacent wall and a designer steel wall art. Making a perfect backdrop to display showpieces is the shimmering grey, chequered wallpaper behind the dining console.

Coming to the kitchen, the design is simple, neat and strictly functional. One notes an extensive use of glass as it is easy-to-maintain. Glass is also used in the backsplash area. All storage shutters below the counters are in back-painted white glass and framed in aluminum, whereas overhead shutters are finished in glossy white PU. Adding depth and light to the space are mirrors, which replace the dado tiles.

The master bedroom is plush and elegant, featuring a double bed done up in white leather and a rich velvet bedcover in mauve against a white wallpaper. Extensive use of reflective surfaces on the white base creates a visually appealing and luxurious space.

The kitchen is simple and neat with an all-white palette.

When combined with other elements like customized soft furnishings, exclusive wallpaper and stylish accessories, the space makes a definitive style statement.

The most stylish feature in the master bedroom, however, is the walk-in wardrobe adjoining the glass bathroom. The huge dressing mirror along with a vertical dressing closet completes the luxurious look. The balcony with wood-finish tiles provides privacy to this cosy and stylish room.

The other bedroom has a huge double bed in white PU against dark grey wallpaper. This provides a stunning contrast. The mirrored bathroom door opens into a stylish area done up in yellow onyx tiles.

The most stunning accent in the third bedroom is the wardrobe in white leather and black glass finishes. Sheer grey curtains with rectangular print perfectly complement the staggered panels of leather and glass on the wardrobe. The white wallpaper with bold white textured stripes and mirror panels on either side adorn the wall, where the headboard of the white leather bed rests.

This apartment has what every man dreams of—healthy environment, stylish interiors and proximately to the city's economic hubs.
